

Visionaries, Mystics, and Contactees

Salvador Freixedo was born in Galicia, Spain in 1923. Raised in a devoutly Catholic family, he entered the Jesuit order as a teenager and spent the next 30 years as a priest. While living in Cuba, he wrote 40 Cases of Social Injustice, for which he was invited to leave by the dictator Batista. He moved to Puerto Rico, where in 1969 he wrote Mi Iglesia Duerme (My Church is Asleep) in a sincere attempt to force ecclesiastical recognition of the many shortcomings he saw in Catholicism. The bishops of Puerto Rico suspended his ministry, and he was later, under Church pressure, imprisoned in Venezuela. All of these events caused Freixedo to review the ideas he had held as a Jesuit priest. He began to make an exhaustive, comparative study of all religions and found common patterns among them. He discovered that all religions had saints and miracles - aspects which the Catholic Church had long considered its own monopoly. Freixedo then understood that miracles were actually a commonplace phenomenon, that reality has always been plastic and malleable, and that interaction of humans with other, non-human intelligences could be traced back to the beginnings of recorded history. This special Illuminet reprint features an enlightening introduction by noted UFO author and Fortean pioneer, John A. Keel (author of The Mothman Prophecies and Our Haunted Planet), who first brought international attention to Freixedo's personal story and research.
