Based on the authors original histological slides collected throughout his career as a pathologist and educator, Visual Encyclopedia of Ovarian Histopathology on CD-ROM contains over 200 images of ovarian histopathology in a highly flexible, easy to use program. You can view the entire slide show as thumbnails or full size. Or go to the index and one click on a thumbnail and you can view the slide full screen, with or without captions, linked to other slides with differential diagnoses. Or you can search by slide title, title of section or subsections. The captions include the title of the slide, comments, and differential diagnoses where applicable. The toolbar takes you instantly back to the main menu where you will find options for search, index, sequential view, or exit, making navigation fast and easy. At the end of the program, there is a self-assessment questionnaire featuring the cases most difficult to diagnose correctly.
