

Howard Hodgkin Prints

Howard Hodgkins prints represent an extraordinary body of work, a parallel and very different achievement from his paintings. They have been internationally celebrated and passionately collected. This is a major comprehensive survey and catalogue raisonne. In her introduction, Nan Rosenthal discusses Hodgkins career as a printmaker. This is followed by an in-depth essay by Liesbeth Heenk charting the different phases in Hodgkins printmaking from 1953 through to 2002, and an interview by Heenk with the artist. These three sections are lavishly illustrated with over 80 colour plates. The catalogue raisonne includes over 100 published prints, two books illustrated with Hodgkins prints, three uneditioned prints and eleven limited edition reproductive prints. All of the printing details are given and, where appropriate, literature references citing discussions about the prints. A chronology, list of exhibitions and bibliography complete the exhaustive reference section of the book.
