

Manual of Paediatric Intensive Care Nursing

The Manual of Paediatric Intensive Care Nursing provides clear, concise guidance that will be of benefit to both practising and student ICU nurses alike. Key symptoms and conditions such as pain, respiratory disorders and cardiovascular problems are comprehensively dealt with in separate chapters, and there is also a section on nursing critically ill neonates. This book should be of interest to nurses working in intensive care units; hospice nurses; nurses working in high dependency units; paediatric nurses undertaking the ENB 415 (or equivalent); students of Project 2000 child care branch; and midwives.
