

Dutch Touch

More of a photographic diary than a photography book, Dutch Touch, is a journey of a foreign student in the Netherlands to touch moments of nostalgia. Coffee corners of Amsterdam, the charming Rotterdam, miniaturized Madurodam, the farmer of Schoonrewoerd, Gouda cheese, cafe at Maastricht, flatlands, facades, faces, cry out to tell a tale. Tales told, untold. Dutch Touch tries to touch those tales the evergreen ephemeral spirit the zeitgeist of the Netherlands, through the lens of a Dutch lady and the eyes of a foreigner. A tiny element is however left out: Readers imaginative participation. This omission is with a hope that a new melange of memories and moments will emerge with each Reader and touch Dutch Touch and make this journey sublime. Bon voyage!
